DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Applicant is required to make the following specie elections:

A. Applicant is required to elect a method of determining the glycosyltransferase activity:

i. By using an antibody that is specifically immunoreactive with a product of the reaction (includes claims 37 and 38); or

ii. By using a labeled substrate or acceptor (requires further specie elections). The species are independent or distinct because the assay methods require different reagents, methods and instrumentation for detection.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 36, 39, and 44-50 are generic.

Subspecie election for specie A (ii): If Applicant elects an assay using a labeled substrate or acceptor, Applicant is further required to elect the type of label:

1. radioactive (as in claims 41 and 42); or
2. fluorescent label (as in claim 43). The species are independent or distinct because the assay methods require different reagents, methods of making the labeled entity and instrumentation for detection.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 36, 39, and 44-50 are generic.

Art Unit: 1651

B. Applicant is required to elect one type of glycosyltransferase from the following:

- i. a fucosyltransferase;
- ii. a sialyltransferase; or
- iii. an N-acetylglucosaminyltransferase. The species are independent or distinct because they catalyze the transfer of distinctly different saccharides to non-common acceptors. The search for the antibody or labeling of one kind of saccharide substrate or acceptor is not overlapping with the search for another antibody or label for another.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 36-43 and 47-50 are generic.

C. Applicant is required to elect one type of test compound from the following:

- i. test compound has an aromatic ring structure (addition specie elections are required);
- or
- ii. test compound has an aliphatic ring structure.

The species are independent or distinct because the search for compounds having different ring structures is very broad and not necessarily overlapping.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 36-46 are generic.

Sub-Specie election for the test compound: If the specie C(i) is elected applicant is required to choose from among the following:

- 1. test compound has an aryl moiety; or
- 2. test compound has a heteroaryl moiety; if this group is elected, Applicant is required to choose one of the heteroaryl ring species listed in claim 50.

Art Unit: 1651

The species are independent or distinct because the search for compounds having different ring structures is very broad and not necessarily overlapping.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 36-46 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Susan Hanley whose telephone number is 571-272-2508. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9:00-5:30.
